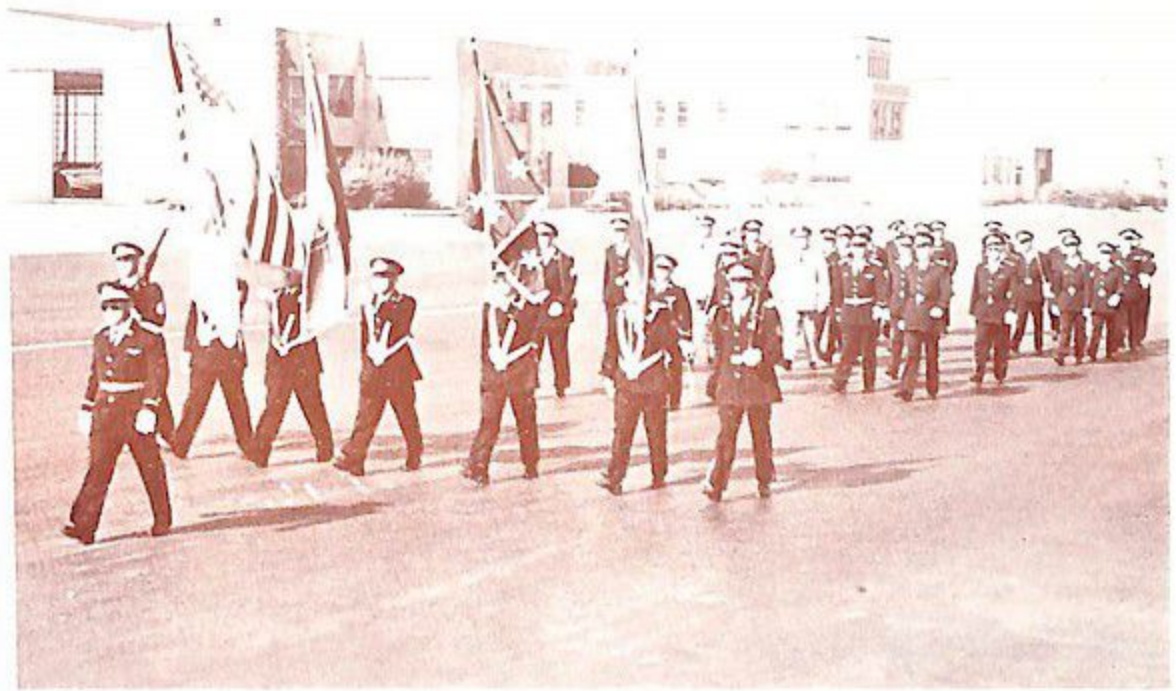
Lieut. Wilfred Chagnon has a birthday party

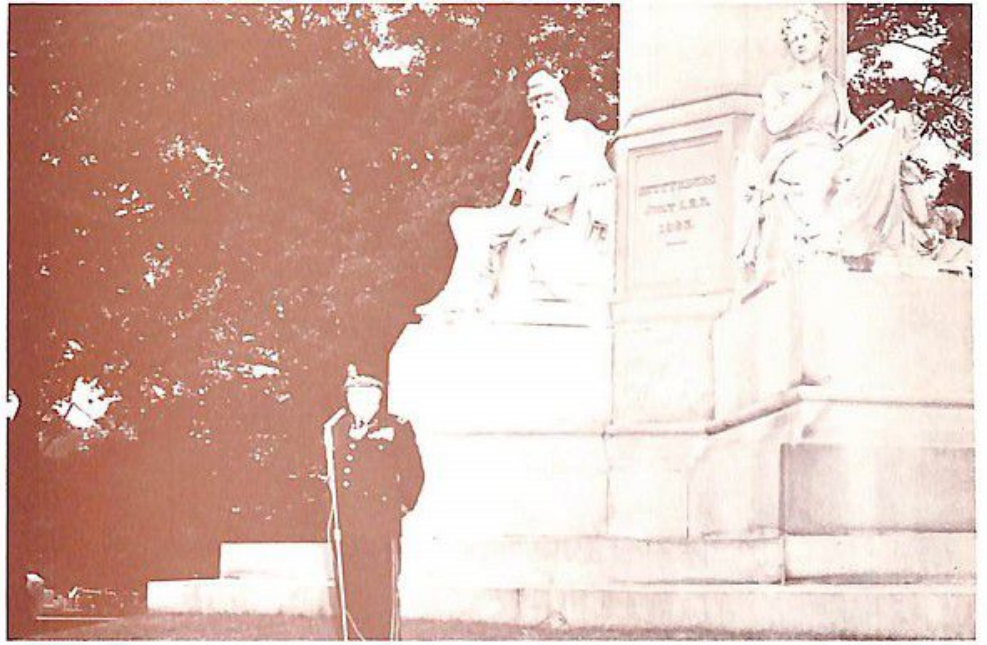
Maurer's Marauders assemble for roll call on the grand stairway of the Sheraton Charles Hotel, New Orleans, Oct. 1961

The 102nd Fighter Wing, Mass. AFNG, provides music



The colors in the parade to the plane, Logan Airport, Sept. 1961

Infantry Wing enters the Gettysburg National Cemetery
Major Frederick A. York, Jr., First Lieutenant in command

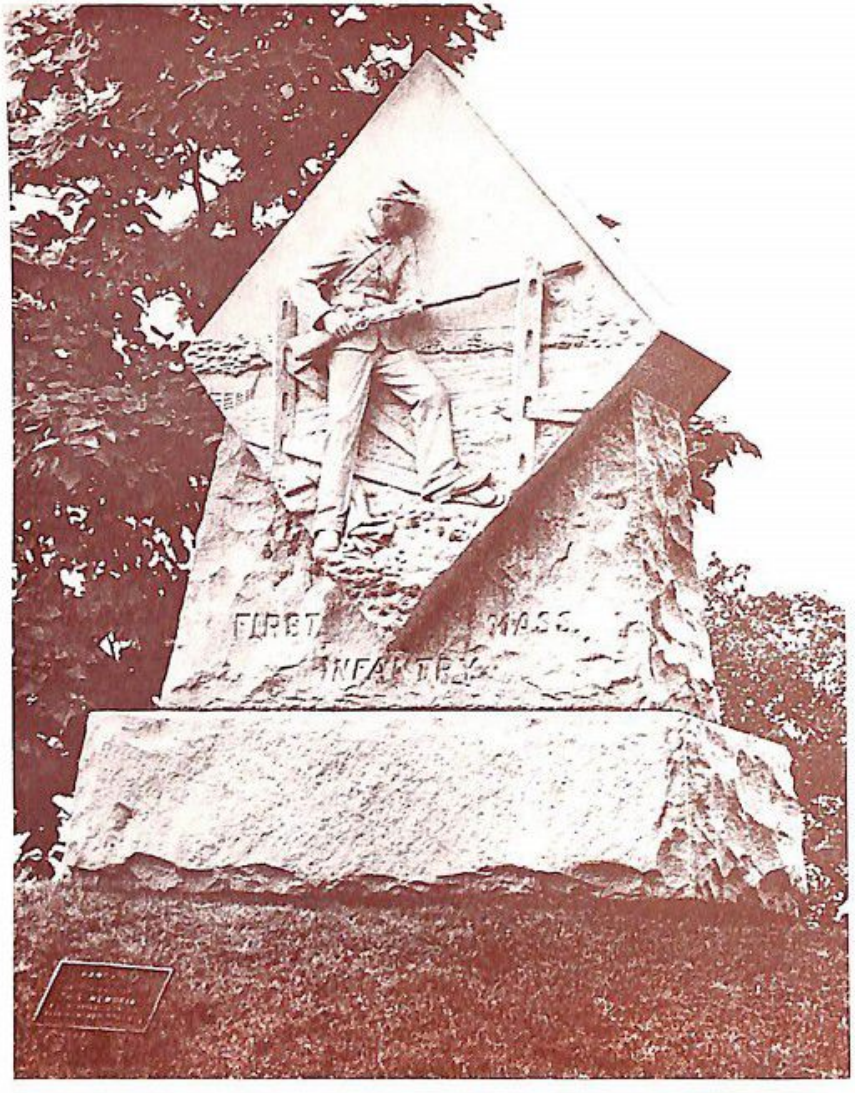


The Captain Commanding delivers the address at the National Monument, Gettysburg, October 1961

Artillery Wing forms for ceremony at the Gettysburg National Cemetery, Lieut. John J. Riley, Jr. in command

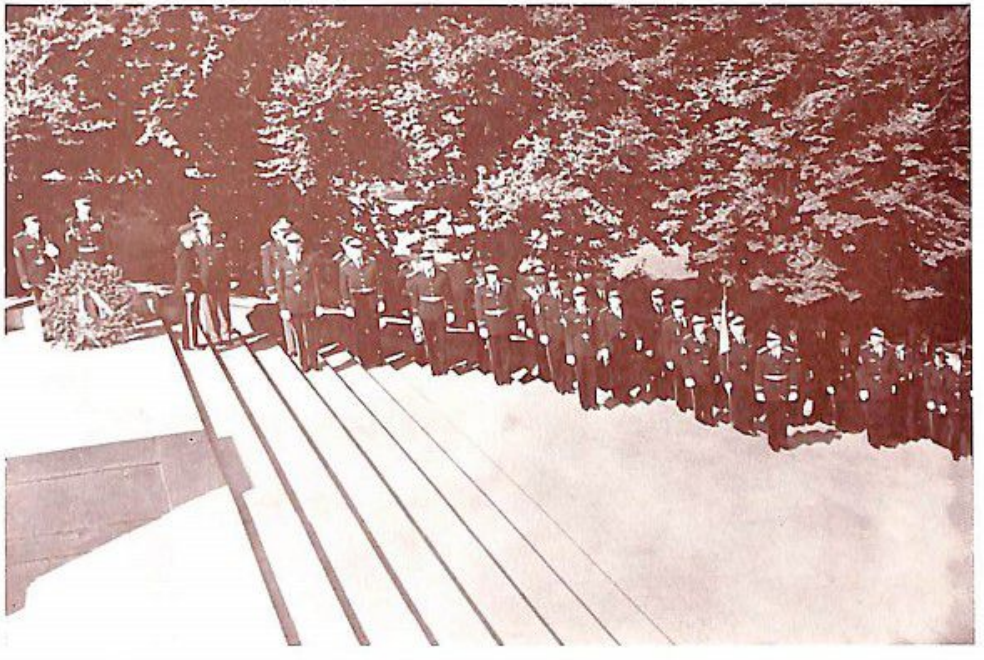
Former 26th Yankee Division members at the Gettysburg luncheon included Brig. Gen. Kane, Maj. Gen. Maurer, Lieut. Gen. Paul (World War II Division Commander), and Lieut. Kreas

Governor Volpe places wreath on graves of 159 unknown Massachusetts soldier dead, Gettysburg, October 1961



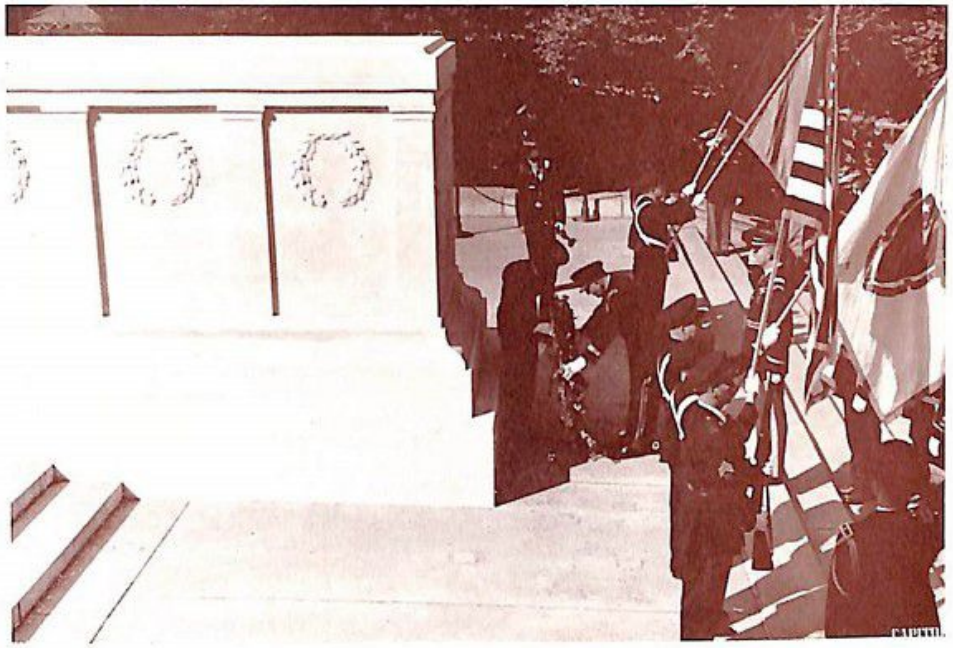
Monument to the First Massachusetts Infantry

The Company arrives in Washington for the Fall Field Day
Tour of Duty, October 1961

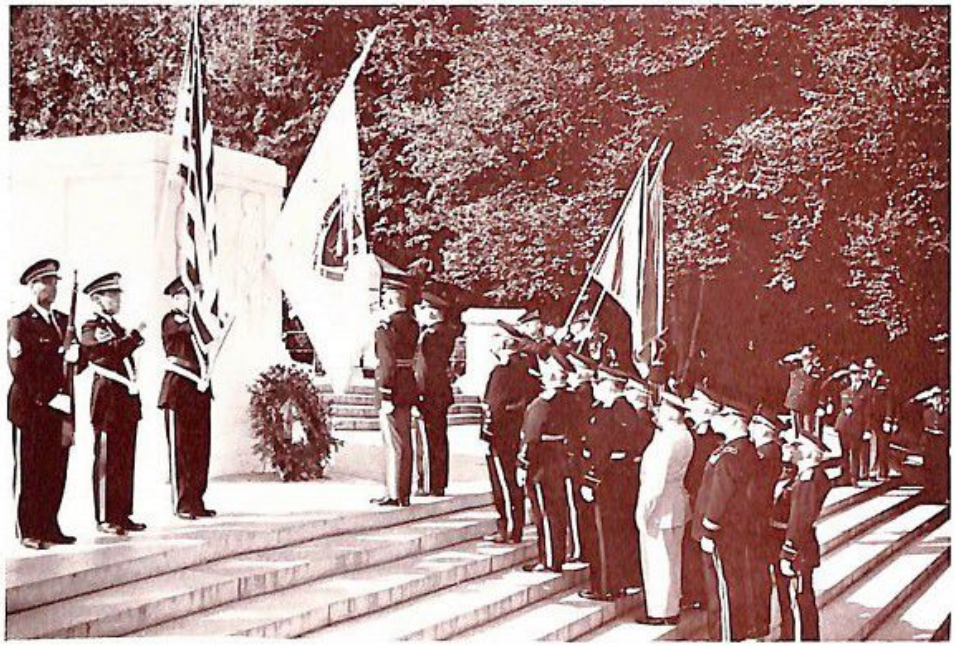


The Artillery Wing forms on the steps leading to the Tomb

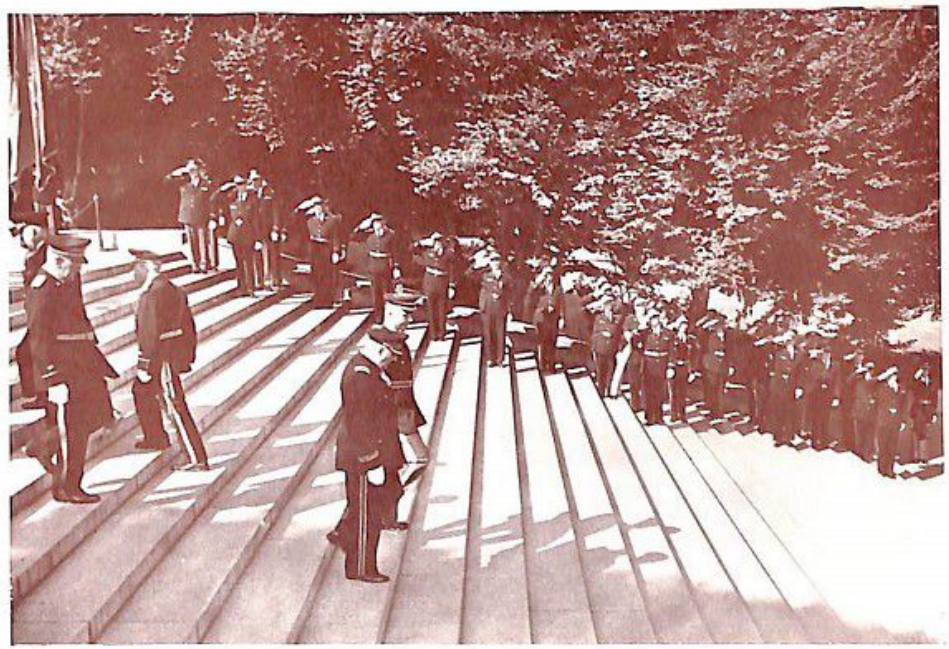
The Colors form at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier



General Maurer lays the wreath at the Tomb

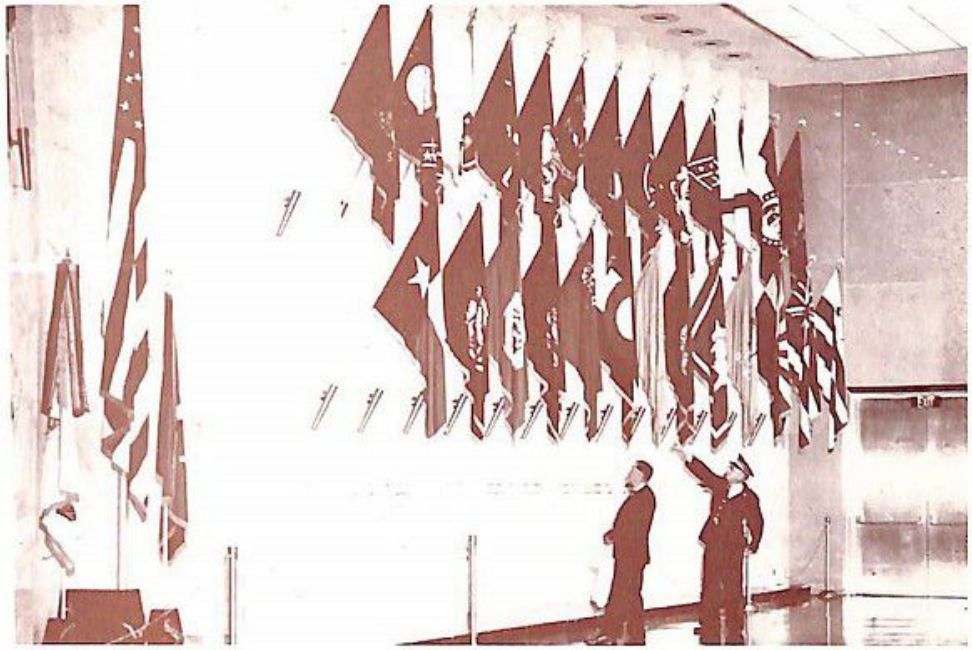


Honors are rendered at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier

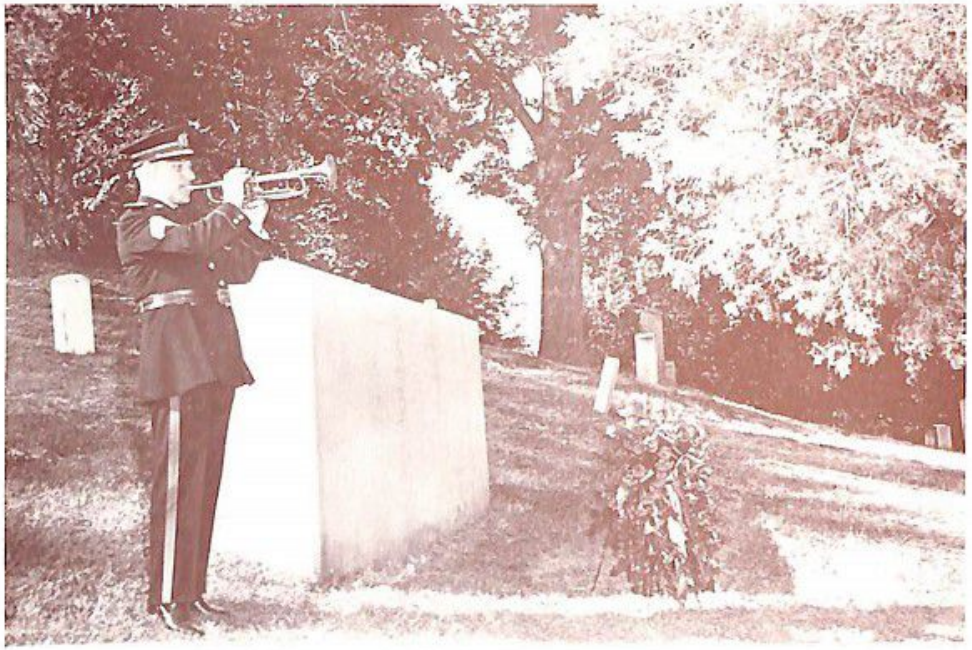


Conclusion of ceremonies at Tomb of the Unknown Soldier

The Sergeants visit the White House to present an unusual Paul Revere silver bowl made of silver coin, October 1961



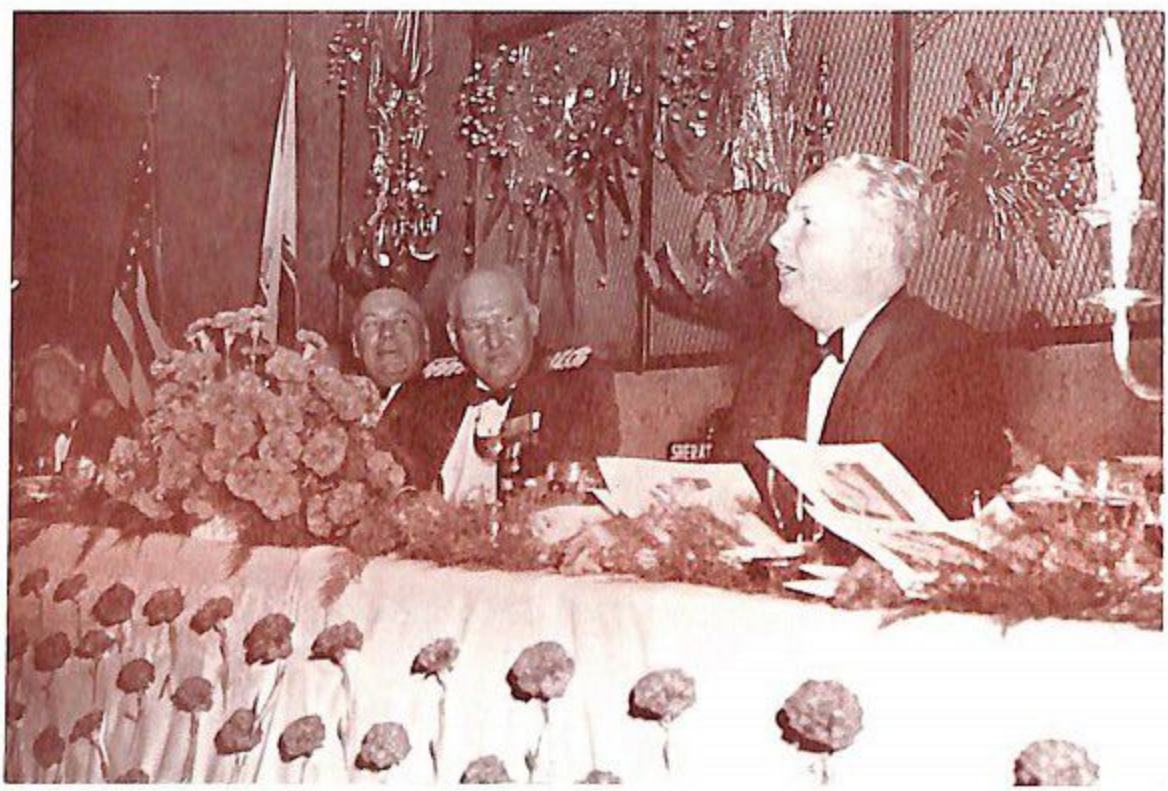
The Company visits the State Hall of Flags in the National Guard Memorial Building, Washington, D.C., October 1961



Company Bugler Sergeant Karle L. Rehde sounds taps at the grave of Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, World War I commander of the 26th Yankee Division

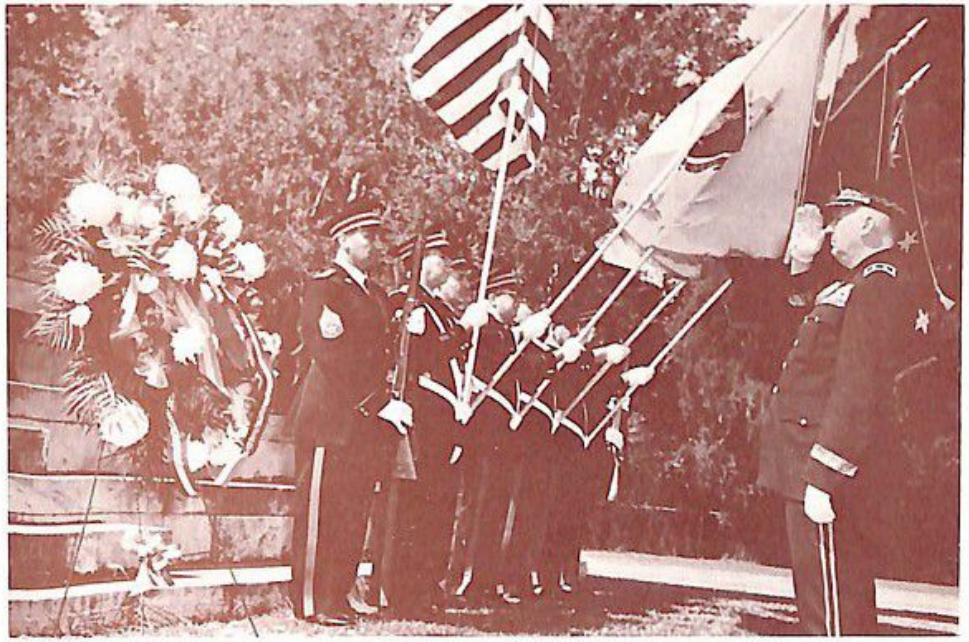
First Sergeant York and Sergeant Berrio inspect the plaque in the National Guard Memorial Building

The Captain Commanding and his staff greet Governor John A. Volpe at the Fall Field Day Tour of Duty Banquet



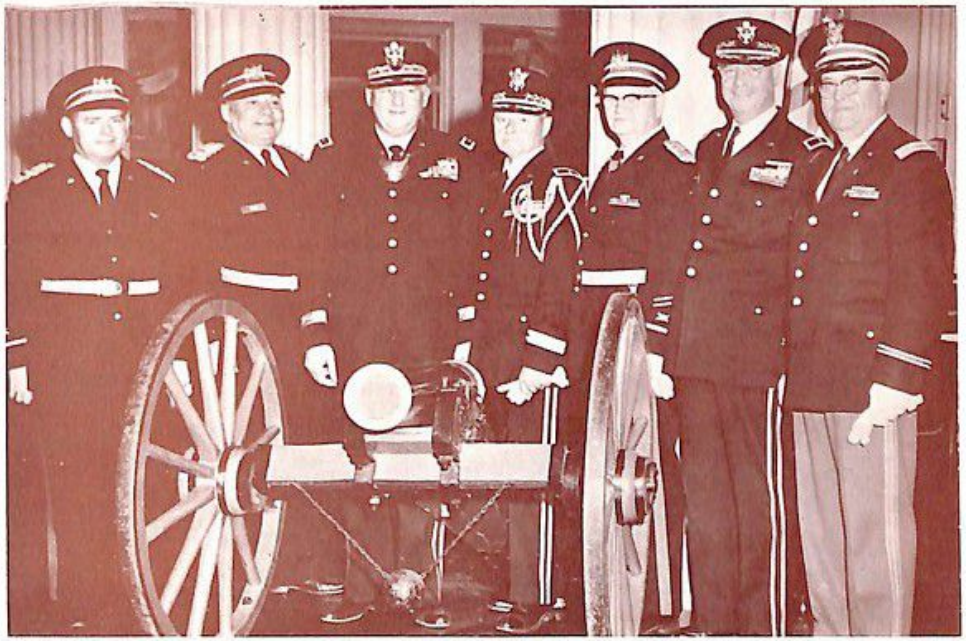
His Honor John F. Collins, Mayor of Boston, addresses the Fall Field Day Tour of Duty Banquet, Washington, D.C.

The Honorable John E. Morrill greets the Company with a red carpet on our arrival at New Orleans, Louisiana, Oct. 1961



Ceremony at the memorial to the Battle of New Orleans

General Maurer and his staff are received by the Honorable Victor H. Schiro, Mayor of New Orleans, Oct. 1961



The officers inspect an old cannon manufactured in Boston on a visit to Jackson Barracks, Louisiana